26 July 2007

Excellency,

It is with a great pleasure that I take this opportunity to congratulate you, your professional staff and Cabinet for winning the hearts and minds of brotherly Turkish people through an unprecedented transparent, peaceful and democratic election process. Your party won the parliamentary elections on such a high note that even your close allies were surprised and this was a vote of confidence to your economic, social and other policies through which you have been able to promote Turkey to a higher ground equally at home and abroad.

As Secretary General of Developing Eight Countries (D-8), I should also extend my felicitations to your Excellency on behalf of all member states and pray to Almighty that during your second term in office D-8 Organization would continue to receive the desired support and attention from Turkey, the host country for D-8. The role of Turkey within D-8 community is a unique one, and thus your special attention to promote its activities is called for.
